GLOBAL MBA 2025 RANKING

EADA Business School's MBA is once again among the top 100 in the world ranking

- The prestigious British ranking recognizes the school for its dedication to ESG and net zero issues, placing it in 8th position in the world in this category
- Once again, the city of Barcelona stands out with the presence of three schools among the top 100 in the world

Barcelona, February 17, 2025. EADA Business School has consolidated its position among the top 100 MBAs in the world for the third year, according to the ranking published today by the prestigious economic newspaper Financial Times.

EADA Business School stands out, in eighth place worldwide, for the proportion of teaching hours dedicated to ethics, social and environmental issues and climate solutions on how organizations can achieve net zero. “This new recognition and consolidation of our programme confirms that this training experience not only combines key knowledge, skills and competencies to lead business projects of future leaders, but also deeply embraces business sustainability to make their success responsible as well,” says Ella Boniuk, director of the International MBA programme at EADA.

The MBA is a global vision program on the company, designed and aimed at graduates with a minimum of 3 years of work experience, which aims to help them make a qualitative leap in their professional career. The ranking is compiled by analysing numerous parameters such as professional opportunities, participant remuneration, female presence, diversity of teaching

EADA Business School Barcelona was founded in 1957 by a group of businessmen and professionals as an independent institution, both ideologically and economically. Recognized by the main international rankings such as the Financial Times and The Economist, it has the global accreditations EQUIS and AMBA, which recognize the quality of its MBA programs. The Leading What Matters manifesto defines the purpose of EADA Business School.
